REMINDER: Early Submission Deadline December 15

WASHINGTON— Filmmakers wishing to take advantage of the discounted entry rate for early submissions must send their entry postmarked December 15, 2009, Politics on Film organizers reminded filmmakers today.

The second annual film festival scheduled to take place May 4 - 9, 2010 in Washington, DC. The final deadline is February 15, 2010 (postmarked). Complete submission information is available on the festival web site politicsonfilm.com

Juried Categories

- Feature Films: Feature-length films produced in the United States not yet released in theaters.
- Documentary Films: Documentary films produced in the United States not yet released in theaters.
- International Films: Feature or documentary films produced outside the United States and not yet released in U.S. theaters.
- Political Ads: Political advertisements to be considered in various categories with winners packaged in a short reel to be run prior to festival screenings.

Politics on Film is the nation's first juried film festival with a mission to highlight political film broadly, providing a platform for filmmakers who focus on government, the electoral process, or pressing public policy issues, and establishing an entertaining and educational opportunity for the community. The festival will award prizes in four categories: feature film, documentary film, international film, and political advertising. Festival programming will include panel discussions relevant to film topics, special screenings and events, and will conclude with an awards program.

About Politics on Film

Politics on Film is a project of the Washington Political Film Foundation. It is an annual, bipartisan film festival based in Washington DC dedicated to providing a platform for films that tell stories of America's politics and policies. The festival celebrates the power of film to educate and motivate, as well as entertain. The Festival also celebrates the historic and ongoing legacy of films about American government and democracy, as well as related stories and themes from an international perspective. www.politicsonfilm.com.
